

Equality and Diversity Policy

Compass Presents is committed to actively promoting equality and diversity

You can expect:

- To be treated with respect
- To feel welcome and valued
- Support in your role
- An accessible and safe place of work
- Equality of opportunity, free from harassment and bullying

We expect you:

- To help other members of the team, creative partners and audience members feel safe and welcome
- To be respectful of the needs, culture and beliefs of others
- To help us improve our company by sharing your comments and suggestions with us

Our creative activities and internal processes:

- Are not prejudiced, discriminatory or oppressive
- Represent a range of cultural backgrounds
- Recognise that people are different

If you are concerned about equality and diversity please speak to a member of the Compass Presents team.
